

- Start with the basic HTML structure.
- Add a `<head>` section with a title (e.g., "Multimedia Web Page").
- Include a `<body>` section.

Text Content:

- Inside the `<body>`, add a heading (`<h1>`) with a title for your webpage (e.g., "My Multimedia Page").
- Write a short paragraph describing the purpose of your webpage.

Hyperlinks:

- Create a section for hyperlinks (``).
- Add at least three hyperlinks to external websites (e.g., Wikipedia, YouTube).
- Make one link open in a new tab using the `target="_blank"` attribute.

Audio Element:

- Create a section for audio (`<audio>`).
- Find an audio file (e.g., MP3) and include it using the `<source>` element.
- Add controls (`controls` attribute) to allow users to play, pause, and adjust volume.

Video Element:

- Create a section for video (`<video>`).
- Find a video file (e.g., MP4) and include it using the `<source>` element.
- Add controls (`controls` attribute) to allow users to play, pause, and adjust volume.
